

Press Release:

GolfClubsAway expands into San Diego, California

Lynbrook, NY (April 7, 2011)- GolfClubsAway, the leader in online golf club rentals, is pleased to announce it has expanded, offering golf club rentals in Florida, Arizona, Vegas and now San Diego, California.

GolfClubsAway (www.golfclubsaway.com) rents premium golf club sets to golf travelers, personally delivered to your course or hotel for only $39, eliminating the difficulty of checking golf clubs at airports, which include worrying about lost or damaged clubs or even stolen clubs and then repeating the difficulty when heading home.

“With the airlines charging high fees to check a bag each way, it has become costly for golf travelers. Our company is the answer to this, allowing you to rent a premium set of clubs delivered for less than a one way baggage charge.” said Gary Miller, CEO of GolfClubsAway. “Our company is dedicated to making golf travel easier, renting the latest model NIKE golf club sets in a variety of sizes, including men's and ladies lefties and have them delivered to their hotel or golf course the next day. Our customers appreciate the convenience of not having to check the clubs and dealing with baggage claims.”

“The market expansion into San Diego is a natural fit, offering a perfect year-round golf destination and is the fastest growing destination for golf in California if not fastest growing golf destination in the U.S.A. With an average annual rainfall of about 5 inches, the San Diego golf climate seasonally ranges in temperature from 60 - 85 degrees, with 75 degrees being the average. We will continue to expand into key markets that feature year-round golf weather.”
